U. S. Red Cross Donates $500,000 Towards Funds For China Famine Relief

Shansi Crops Fail On Account Of Drought; Province Overtaxed By Acute Distress

(Reuters Service)
Washington, October 7.—The American Red Cross has passed an appropriation of half-a-million dollars for the relief of famine sufferers in the Peking district.

Mr. Emmet W. White, director of the insular and foreign division of the American Red Cross, and representing the American Red Cross and League of Red Cross Societies, arrived in Shanghai yesterday, from Manila.

Mr. White is proceeding to Peking at once for the purpose of investigating the famine conditions in North China and measures being taken for relief.

FAMINE IN SHANSI

(China Press Correspondence)

Taiyuan, Shansi, September 28.—Reports that are pouring in from all the districts make the famine situation in this province appear more and more desperate. Of the hundred odd counties comprising the province, the crops in 12 were totally destroyed by the drought; 26 counties raised only 15 percent of the normal crop, while in all the other counties the crops were far below normal and barely sufficient for local needs.

The summer crops this year were only 50 percent of last year's production, and the provincial authorities moved heaven and earth to relieve the needy, hoping that the autumn harvests may be plentiful.

TOTAL FAILURE

The almost total failure of the autumn harvests have however been beyond measure the real sources of this "model province." Acute distress prevails all over the province, and in several of the districts herbs and roots are the sole means of sustenance.

STRICT ACTS

In contrast with the apathy of the Tachuns of other provinces Governor Yen and his officials are governing every nerve to meet the situation. Systematic plans are being rigorously carried out to relieve the destitute, prevent plundering, and employ the resources in permanent public works such as the construction of irrigation canals and road building.

AN INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE

An international committee composed of business men, foreign missionaries and educationists and Government representatives have been formed to supplement the work of the local government.

NANTUNGCHOW HELPS

Nantungchow City, October 6.—Under the auspices of Messrs. Chang Char and Chang Chien, who are supported by the Chamber of Commerce, the Educational and the Agricultural Associations, an appeal for substantial aid is being generously responded to from all sides. A sum of $20,000 is expected to come to the relief fund from the proceeds of a benefit play which has been staged here for three consecutive nights with large attendance.

NO BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. Chang Char who takes deep compassion in the deplorable plight of the north and who celebrated his seventieth birthday next November, declines any form of celebration and wishes to have home just by that time to tour the north and witness the calamitous scene.

NANKING HOLDS FETE

Nanking, October 7.—The City Y. M. C. A. had a fete last Friday and Saturday evenings. That was a means to raise the fund for the famine relief at North China. Excellent program was presented, including fireworks, movies and music. A large attendance attended the fete. Over $700.00 was netted by the fete.

It is also understood that the Provincial Girl School will have a similar fete, too, for the same purpose to raise fund for the starving people at North China on the tenth.

Send Subscriptions For Famine Relief To These Officials

Subscriptions and gifts to afford relief to the famine sufferers may be made to any of the four honorary treasurers who have been chosen to act for the famine relief organization formed here. These are:

- Mr. Sung Han-chang, The Bank of China.
- Mr. Fu Siao-en, The Commercial Bank of China.
- Mr. William Morris, The British American Tobacco Company.
- Mr. G. H. Stitt, The Hongkong and Shanghai Bank.

Donations of food and clothing also will be received at the headquarters of the relief association at No. 22 The Bund, the former German Club.

SHANGHAI NURSE IS ONE OF TRIO DROWNED IN AUTO

Miss Effie Hamlyn Is Victim In Accident On Road From Kiukiang To Kuling

Word was received in Shanghai yesterday that Miss Effie Hamlyn, who has been engaged in nursing for several years in Shanghai and who was well-known here, was one of three persons who lost their lives when an automobile in which a party was being taken from Kiukiang to Kuling skidded from the roadway into South Gate Lake. The tragedy occurred last Tuesday.

Miss Hamlyn left Shanghai about a week ago for a vacation visit to Kuling and a companion who was with her when she met her death nearly shared her fate and is now under treatment at the Roman Catholic Hospital at Kiukiang.

The automobile party bound for Kuling had proceeded only a short distance from the garage over a clay road made treacherous by a previous day's rain. Besides the Chinese driver, the other occupants of the car were Miss Hamlyn, her companion, a Chinese woman, wife of an employee at the Kuling Rest House, and the Chinese woman's baby. All were hurled into twelve feet of water when the car left the road and plunged beneath the surface of the water. Miss Hamlyn's companion was able to swim to shore and assisted also in saving the life of the Chinese infant. The driver of the car, Miss Hamlyn and the Chinese woman were drowned.

Miss Hamlyn was the eldest daughter of the late J. G. Hamlyn and has a number of relatives residing in Shanghai.

PRISONERS TO BE FREED IF BRITAIN TRADES IN RUSSIA

Government Demands Definite Reply To Soviet Note By October 11

(Reuters Service)
London, October 6.—Reuters Agency learns that the most recent note from the British Government to the Soviet requires a definite reply by October 11, in regard to the release of British prisoners from Baku and the cessation of Bolshevik propaganda in Asia.

The note adds that until the necessary assurances on the above points are forthcoming, the resumption of the negotiations for the opening of trade relations will be postponed.

It is understood that the reply of the Soviet Government to this note has reached London, but it is not yet published.

Premier Opposes Dominion War Debt Is Factor Raised

Full Control Of Military And Naval Affairs Involved In Asquith's Proposal, Says Head Of Cabinet

(Reuters Service)
London, October 7.—What amounts to a reply to Mr. Asquith's suggestions as to the form of Home Rule for Ireland, is contained in an interview with Mr. Lloyd George by Mr. Harold Spender, published in the Lloyd George Liberal Magazine.

The Premier argued, at the outset, that, unless the Asquithian Liberals intended to give Ireland full control of military and naval affairs, their proposal ceased to be "Dominion Home Rule" in the sense in which that phrase was accepted throughout the Empire, and the term thus used became a form of deception.

MUST SHARE WAR DEBT

Discussing the feasibility of giving Ireland complete control of her own taxation, the Premier declared that to give such control would amount to Ireland being let off her share of war debt, and this would mean that the English working man might pay a pound for his tobacco, whilst the Irish working man would pay only 6d.

Mr. Lloyd George expressed a doubt as to whether the British people would agree that Irishmen should have any special privilege in regard to taxation resulting from the war, but if someone entitled to speak on behalf of Ireland stated that they were prepared to take a fair share of Ireland's obligations, that would be a different matter.

OPPOSES DOMINION

The Prime Minister continued as follows: "We cannot cut the painter. The Dominion policy, as now put forward, would leave us in a terrible position."

Mr. Lloyd George further remarked that under the Liberal policy Ulster would have to be subjected to the most serious coercion. He did not believe the Liberals really imagined they could carry Dominion Home Rule, even if they had a majority in the House of Commons.

League Prepares To Hold First Meeting

(Reuters Service)
London, October 7.—Great preparations are being made for the first session of the Assembly of the League of Nations, which will meet at Geneva in November.

Work is in progress on the Palais des Nations, the newly-acquired headquarters of the League, on the shores of the lake. The missions of the 41 States, now forming the League, together with their staffs will number 1,000 persons while twelve fresh small States are seeking admission to the League.

SIBERIA STAND OF JAPANESE IS ERROR-KATO

Viscount Declares Fair Play In China Is Needed As Diplomacy

SHANTUNG IS DISCUSSED

Californians Must Be Dealt With Firmly, Asserts Veteran Diplomat

(Reuters Pacific Service)
Tokio, October 7.—Viscount Kato, addressing the General Convention of the Kenseikai today, outlined the position of the Opposition with regard to international affairs. He said that he was convinced that the Anglo-Japanese Alliance should be renewed with modifications, because it was essential to both nations and beneficial to both.

"The secret or proper diplomacy with regard to China," the speaker continued, "lies in fair play and in the Japanese aiming at friendship with the Chinese people as a whole." Viscount Kato declared that the present Ministry showed no partiality to either the North or the South but was so wholly negative in its diplomacy, that it failed even to uphold the legitimate rights of the Empire, consequently encouraging anti-Japanese movements and estranging the two peoples.

BLUNDERS IN SIBERIA

He criticized the Japanese delegates at Versailles for appealing for sympathy in their favor with regard to Shantung instead of standing firmly on Japan's treaty rights, while in the Poochow and other cases, he declared, Japan also failed to back up her justified claims.

Viscount Kato said that Japan had blundered continuously with regard to Siberia, failing in her real object, which was to help to establish an anti-Bolshevik Government, and she was now holding Sachalin, which was untenable.

With regard to California, the Kenseikai leader said that he reserved comment pending the conclusion of negotiations. "But," he added, "Japan should not spare any effort for a satisfactory settlement, confronting the problem fairly and determinedly with the rights of the Japanese residents in her mind. Japan would be condemned forever, if she consented to conclude a treaty, pleasing to anti-Japanese Americans."

WARNING TO KOREA

Closer scrutiny with regard to Korea, the speaker continued, disclosed the existence of grave conditions, which had not been made public by the Government, whose policy of secrecy was useless. The fullest publicity was essential to the study of conditions by the Government and the people.

He unhesitatingly approved the present reforms as a preliminary to future self-government.

"I take this opportunity," Viscount Kato concluded, "of informing the Koreans that self-government will only be entrusted to them after the way to it has been paved. Independence, as clamored for cannot be permitted."

WAR PRISONERS PASS THROUGH SHANGHAI PORT

Another Boatload Is Brought From Siberia On Their Way To Trieste

MEN COME ASHORE TODAY

Agencies Working To Supply Reading Matter And Other Needs

Another boatload of former German, Austrian and Hungarian soldiers who were made war captives on the Russian front and now are being sent back to their homes after years of imprisonment are passing through Shanghai today on the steamer Scharnhorst of the Messageries Maritimes. The vessel was due off Woosung yesterday afternoon and is to come up the river this morning.

ARE ON SCHARNHORST

The former war prisoners on the Scharnhorst number 2,200 and while they are in port the Navy Y.M.C.A. and other agencies are taking steps to supply needs for the men in the form of clothing and reading matter. The Scharnhorst follows another vessel that brought former war prisoners through Shanghai, the Nankai Maru, which sailed on September 17 with 1,600, and a third boat has been chartered that will leave Vladivostok in a few days with a list of some two thousand more captives who have been in Russia for the past year or more.

The work of repatriation of the war prisoners still held in Russia—numbering something like 20,000—is being carried out by the American Red Cross, the American Republics Committee in Siberia, representing the American Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. and other agencies. This committee's agent Mr. P. Rosenbluth, has been in Shanghai for the past two weeks and it is through his efforts that the Scharnhorst and the vessel to follow her were chartered.

GET SHORE LEAVE

Today most of the former war prisoners are to be given shore leave when they will be entertained at the Navy Y. M. C. A. and by others who have taken in hand task of supplying comforts to the travelers. It has been announced that reading matter for these men and clothing, as well as the Navy Y. M. C. A. The Scharnhorst, like the other vessels carrying former war prisoners, is sailing for the port of Trieste.

False Vouchers On Oil Deals Cause Federal Charge

(Reuters Service)
New York, October 7.—A Federal Grand Jury has indicted Mr. Miller, a Rio de Janeiro broker and merchant, Mr. H. B. Hankingson, formerly of the Standard Oil Company, Captain Wry, and Chief Engineer Bowman, on charges of collecting false vouchers for fuel oil, furnished at Rio de Janeiro. It is reported that Wry, Bowman and Hankingson have confessed.

Germany May Return To Community Of Nations

(Reuters Service)
London, October 7.—A telegram from Paris states that the Government has decided to settle the question of the reparations, due to France under the Peace Treaty, by direct negotiations with Germany, later submitting the scheme to the Allies for approval. If the plan is carried out, it is believed that it will make the pending Geneva Conference unnecessary.

FIRST ACT OF GRACE

The importance of this first act of grace by Germany if successful and if the spirit is continued, cannot be over-estimated as regards its influence upon the whole financial situation and hope is expressed in Paris that this action will bring back Germany into the community of nations.

It is signalled as a personal triumph for M. Millerand upon his entry into the Elysee.

PAN-GERMANISM SEEN

Paris, October 7.—A further instance of Pan-German activities is reported from Danzig, where, during the troubled period of the Russo-Polish hostilities, the harbor employees refused to unload munitions consigned to Poland.

This attitude was attributed to their Bolshevik tendencies, but a speech made on September 12, by a Deputy named Illus showed that this was merely a blind. The strike was in fact entirely engineered by the Pan-Germans, working under the directions from the Prussians at Koelnberg.

ANXIETY FELT BY JAPANESE OVER HUNGCHUN AFFAIR

Warning Voiced By Obata In Informal Address To Waichiaupu

(Reuters Pacific Service)
Tokio, October 7.—In consequence of the seizure of Hungchun, great anxiety is felt concerning the Japanese in that region. Owing to the ineffective attempts of the Chinese to restore order, the bandits and Koreans have become increasingly active and lawless.

The Koreans control Wang-ching, Yenchi and Holung and are menacing the peace of the treaty ports.

GENERAL DISORDER

The Chinese forces are reported to be taking advantage of the opportunity to loot, but disappear when the bandits approach. It is reported that the Chinese authorities are telling the natives that the presence of the Chinese forces is necessitated by the relation with Japan, but the Chinese residents generally are reported to want Japanese troops.

Japanese guards repelled a fresh attack against Hungchun on October 3.

OBATA GIVES WARNING

Tokyo, October 7.—Mr. Obata informally drew the attention of the Waichiaupu yesterday to the repeated Japanese warnings regarding Japanese losses in Manchuria at the hands of bandits and Korean malcontents, particularly near the Korean border. He pointed out that the measures taken were still inadequate, as the raids on Hungchun proved.

He also referred to the significance of the fact that there were five Russians with the bandits. Although there was no proof that they were Bolsheviks he thought it possible that they were.

It is expected that Tokio will send instructions as to formal representations on the subject.

The postal and telegraph and telephone employees, the Naval reservists, the railwaymen, while reports from Vigo state that Lisbon, Oporto and all the other big towns in Portugal are involved.

French General Joins Wrangel Forces Against Bolsheviks Is Report From Danish Capital

(Reuters Service)

Paris, Oct. 7.—Under the terms of the armistice convention signed on October 5 between Russia and Poland, hostilities will cease on Friday at latest.

WEYGAND JOINS WRANGEL

New York, Oct. 7.—The French General Maxim Weygand has left Copenhagen for the south of Russia, to command the anti-Bolshevik troops of Gen. Wrangel, states an Associated Press message from the Danish capital.

NEW YORK, OCT. 7.—An Associated Press message from London states that Reuters Agency learns from a reliable source that the Russian Red Army is disorganized, and that the harvest is exceptionally bad.

Revolt against the Soviet have broken out in Siberia and elsewhere, and there is great unrest among the working classes.

The Bolshevik authorities are in a very anxious state, realizing that the coming winter will be the hardest yet experienced since the Soviet regime was established.

MAKHNO DESERTS

New York, Oct. 7.—According to Paris report which has reached the Associated Press, General Makhno, the Ukrainian commander in operations under Gen. Wrangel, has now joined the Bolsheviks and has been given a Soviet command against Wrangel.

TRUMPH FOR POLES

London, October 7.—The reported signature of an armistice between Russia and Poland, with which is associated a preliminary peace, signifies a great Polish triumph.

One account declares that I. Domszki, the chairman of the Polish delegation at Niga, has been dictating terms with almost breathless rapidity, and that his points, as fast as he submits them, are accepted by the Soviet delegates, headed by M. Joffe.

This bird's-eye view of the proceedings tallies with the recent reports from Moscow that the Soviet has instructed Joffe to accept any terms, however harsh.

It is stated that the terms include Russia's recognition of the Polish claim for substantial participation in the Russian gold reserve, although the amount has not been fixed.

NEW FRONTIER

The frontier arranged starts slightly to the east of Dvinsk, runs southward to Molodetchno and thence eastward to the Baranovitch-Sarny-Rovno Railway and then southwards again to Mibruze. The Russians have completely deleted all references to Eastern Galicia, White Russia and the Ukraine. The new frontier, compared with the Russian proposals, gives Poland an additional 150,000 sq. miles of territory with a population of 4,500,000.

The armistice is for 25 days and is breakable at 36 hours notice while it is stated that sub-clauses of the armistice prevent the Reds from carrying out their threatened transfer of troops to crush General Wrangel.

Meanwhile it is confirmed that the Red armies are fast collapsing and are in a process of self-demobilization, set over the whole Northern front. The whole of White Russia and the Smolensk area are being overrun with fleeing deserters.

PROBE GOLD SHIPMENT

Washington, October 5 (delayed).—The $340,000 worth of Russian gold, the importation of which is the subject of inquiry by the Department of Justice, was shipped into the United States ostensibly in payment of Russian Government purchases of American war-supplies in France, particularly locomotives.

Profiteer Committee in England Is Fighting Cost Of Living

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 6.—The Central Profiteering Committee is co-operating with the traders with a view to reducing the cost of living and as a result of its investigations it is anticipated that large supplies of guaranteed good clothing will be placed on the market and also standard building materials at fixed prices.

The suggested standard price for men's suits is £5. West End tailors are at present charging from 15 to 19 guineas.

London, October 6.—The report of the profiteering sub-committee in connection with the oil and fats trade finds that no monopoly exists, but, with a view to preventing the possibility of any monopoly, the report advocates the establishment of a committee of traders and government officials, for the purpose of fixing maximum profits. It further suggests that all profits in excess of this maximum should be handed over to the Government.

The Bandman Company

The Bandman Company were greeted by another big house last night, and a splendid reception was accorded to their presentation of "Nothing But The Truth." All the cast played up to the top of their form, and convinced us that the good opinion we have formed of them is well merited.

Tonight the company will present the popular comedy "Billeted."

Although produced during the war and with a title which might suggest a military plot, "Billeted" is pure comedy. It is a story of an officer who under an assumed name gets quartered at the house of his wife, from whom he had been separated. Owing to interference of the Vicar's sister, who sensed impropriety, the lady has assumed her husband's death and gone to the extent of raising money on his insurance policy. There is a great scene with the Scotch banker, who endeavours to explain the difference between a credit balance and a deficit. When the Bandman Company was performing this play in Cairo, one of the authors was in the audience and said that the actor in this character was better than anyone he had seen in the part.

the other governments, and, secondly, Ataman Semenov, who retains the military power.

Ataman Semenov, he said, was at present stronger than ever before, having reformed and reorganised his army, while he possessed a sufficient quantity of gold. Baron Ungern's forces were small, but in the event of their advancing westwards they would probably increase.

Whether Japan would permit Communism in the Far East was he remarked, difficult to say. Nevertheless State Communism in the Far East was as useless as counterfeit money.

Woman's Club Hears Address On Bronzes

Literary Department Program For Year Is Outlined By Chairman

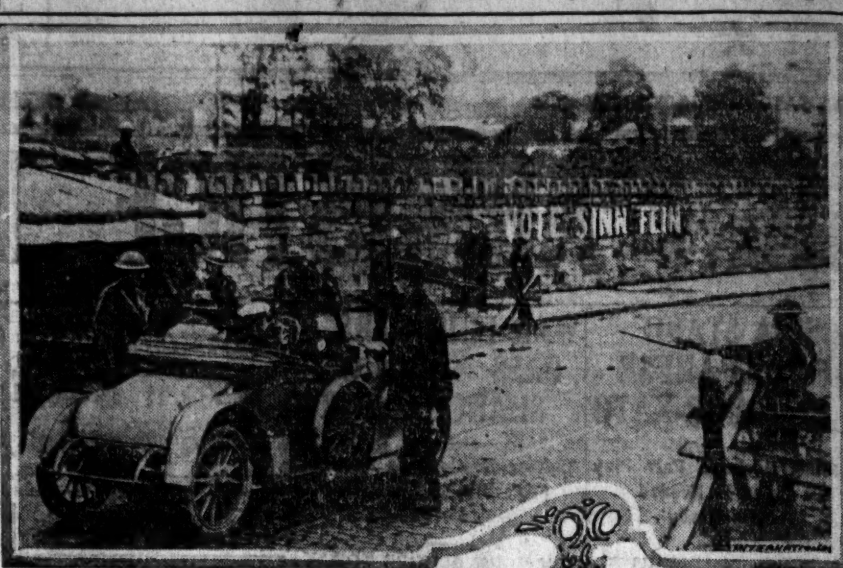

An enlightening address upon the subject of sacrificial bronzes was delivered yesterday by Mr. Evan Morgan before the Literary Department of the American Woman's Club. The speaker outlined the forms of ancient rituals of Chinese worship of Heaven and Earth and of their ancestors and showed pictures of various vessels and utensils used in this worship, tracing their development from the earliest simple forms of gourds, wood vessels and earthenware to bronze. He explained the symbolism of the various vessels.

Mrs. C. S. Lobingier, newly elected President of the American Woman's Club was present and made congratulatory remarks upon the work already accomplished in the study of China.

Following Mr. Morgan's address an outline of the work for the year was given by the chairman, Mrs. Mary Wilbur. Pottery, bronzes, painting and architecture are to receive more intensive study and five papers on ancient Ming and Tsing porcelains are scheduled.

Miss Bosworth reported for the committee on buying new books that $48.95 was realized from the recent Chinese Feast and she announced the titles of a list of new volumes that have been acquired.

New York, October 7.—An Associated Press message from London states that Mr. William ("Pussyfoot") Johnson, the temperance advocate, narrowly escaped violence at the hands of an angry crowd which broke into a temperance meeting at Reading last night.

They tried to break down the doors, which were locked, and hurled bombs and foul-smelling chemicals into the hall.

Danube Commission Listens To New Plan

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 7.—The International Danube Conference met on Wednesday, and agreed at the first reading on the text of articles dealing with (1) the powers of the International Danube Commission, (2) the program of works for the maintenance and improvement of the navigability of the river, (3) the conditions under which those works will be carried out, and (4) the procedure to be followed by the riverine States when they wish to undertake in their respective territories works for preventing inundations, the employment of hydraulic power and irrigation.

The next sitting will be held on Friday, when consideration will be given to the remaining articles, dealing with navigation dues.

CHINA GUNBOATS FREED BY JAPS IN NIKOLAEVSK

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Peking, October 8.—Admiral Albert Gleaves proceeded on his flagship, the Haron, yesterday to Tsingtao where the Japanese authorities are holding a reception in his honor.

The Admiral and his entire fleet, with the exception of the Yangtze gunboats, two destroyers in Vladivostok and two others in Canton, will shortly proceed to the Philippines for the winter.

Three gunboats and one tug of the Chinese navy, having been released by the Japanese authorities in Nikolaeivsk, have reached Habarovsk en route for Harbin.

EXPECT MINERS TO VOTE AGAINST OWNERS OFFER

Bare Majority All That Is Needed According To Recent Decision

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 6.—There are indications that a strong feeling exists in most of the coalfields which may lead to a majority against the proposed datum line at next week's ballot.

The fact that the Miners' Federation Executive has not suggested how the miners should vote—which is probably due to a difference of opinion among its members—will evidently lead to a considerable increase in the vote against acceptance of the proposed terms.

The uncertainty as to whether a bare or a two-thirds majority would be necessary for the strike notices to take effect in the event of the rejection of the terms has been cleared up by Mr. Hodges, the Secretary of the Federation, who states that the former will suffice.

Meanwhile the Welsh, Staffordshire and Northumberland collieries, which have been idle as a protest against the datum line proposals, have now resumed operations.

Hangchow, Oct. 7.—Prof. C. H. Robertson of the Lecture Department of the National Committee of the Y.M.C.A. is in the city for a campaign of science lectures the first of which was delivered yesterday afternoon in the Tsuchun-yamen.

Tsuchun Lu Yung-hang was host of the occasion and the military and civil officials of the city were present to hear the lecture on Wireless Telegraphy and Telephony. In the afternoon the lecture was given with demonstrations to the highest officials and after dinner it was repeated before a second audience composed of the secondary military officers of the city. Both audiences manifested the keenest interest in the lecture.

FORMERLY AT PURDUE

Prof. Robertson, formerly professor of Physics in Purdue University, has been in China eighteen years during which he has developed his own unique method of popularizing scientific education; tens of thousands in all parts of China have heard his lectures. He was recently returned to China after an absence of three years during which he has conducted lecture campaigns among the troops in France, Russia, and Siberia.

MODERN APPARATUS

The wireless telephone apparatus used in his demonstrations is the identical equipment used in the Great Victory Celebration in New York City. The sending station was sent a mile in the air in an airplane from which congratulatory messages were spoken into the receiving station in the city below. The local campaign this week is under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. Men's Christian Association which has arranged a program which will include meetings for merchants and gentry, church members, students, women, and other special classes.

Y.M.C.A. Observing
National Holiday

Dr. C. T. Wang will be the chief speaker at a patriotic celebration to be held at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. this evening in celebration of the anniversary of the founding of the Republic of China. There will be special music, the singing of the national anthem and other features.

On Sunday evening there will be a religious service at 8 o'clock under the joint auspices of the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian Associations of Shanghai. The Shanghai Songsters will sing and there will be special addresses. Both of these meetings are in the Chinese language and are open to the public.

Britains Protesting
New U.S. Ruling

(Reuter's Service)
New York, Oct. 3 (delayed).—A new rule by the United States Shipping Board, which has been enforced since October 1, requiring the filing of copies of all charges made on American and foreign vessels, has aroused a protest from British shipbrokers, on the ground that the information required is confidential.

Confederates Will Not Enter Politics

(Reuter's Service)
Houston, Texas, October 7.—The Convention of the Texas Division of the Confederate Veterans was thrown into a state of turmoil by a motion in favor of endorsing President Wilson's administration, and expressing approval of the League of Nations. The motion was ruled out of order, on the ground that it was political.

Airman Loses Life
In Chicago Wreck

(Reuter's Service)
Chicago, Oct. 3 (delayed).—Details regarding the death of Lieutenant Pedott show that his airplane made a nose-dive into Lake Michigan from a height of 500 feet while travelling at a speed of 100 miles an hour. Lieutenant Pedott was drowned despite the lucky efforts of his companion, Lieutenant Bachelor, to rescue him.

London, October 5.—The armor-plate departments of Sheffield steel firms have received large orders from the Japanese Government for armor-plates for the newest types of Japanese battleships.

CANADA CREATES
AIR BOARD; HAS
NEW REGULATIONS

Canada has shown admirable foresight in creating an air board which governs both governmental and civil aeronautical activities. The progress report is issued monthly and the first is now available. The air board personnel has been partially selected but new appointments are continually being made.

The board has already started to apply air regulations of 1920 and from the report of their activities in regard to the violations of its regulations it would seem that they are accomplishing much to the end of eliminating the advised commercial aeronautical activities. Their flying operations branch is making trips to different points within the Dominion by air bringing back complete records, observations, aerial photographs and data regarding the routes surveyed in this manner. This information is to be made available for commercial operators so that they may not face the establishment of routes over absolutely unknown territory. The examination of specifications and types of machines which are submitted for the control of this branch is also being carried out.

A preliminary survey of the air routes of Canada is being prepared in order to issue complete details of these routes for the information of all concerned. All Government air stations are to be made available as commercial stations and will be licensed as such in the regular way. Additional airports are constantly being created and licensed.

Licenses of pilots and others for commercial aeronautical activities are being issued upon application with respect to air personnel, aircraft and air harbors.

ENGLAND HAS 80 AIRPLANES FOR CONTINENTAL USE

New Routes Are Opened Up Between Islands And European Cities

The Airco Company of London, England has announced that they have started a regular service from London to Amsterdam. The airplanes are of the new DH-9 and DH-14 type and leave at 10 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week returning on the following day.

In addition to this the same company is operating a daily mail service to Paris. The machines leave twice daily, 9:30 and 4:30 p.m. Thus a man is able to break fast in London, lunch in Paris and dine in London. The Handley Page Company is likewise increasing the number of airplanes used on their London-Paris service.

Altogether there are now 80 airplanes engaged on regular services between England and the continent. This development reflects great credit upon the British notwithstanding the many difficulties which they have had to face, due to post war conditions and the transferring of their industrial machinery back to a peace time basis. These companies have steadily increased their business and have maintained daily service for over a year.

PETITE ENTENTE TO AID POWERS, SAYS MINISTER

Rumanian Foreign Chief In Description Of Combination To Maintain Peace

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 7.—M. Take Jonescu, the Rumanian Foreign Minister who, is at present in Paris, has made an interesting statement on the subject of the "Petite Entente" to the Petit Parisien, in the course of which he said:

"There is ground for hoping that the 'Petite Entente,' despite certain inevitable difficulties, will shortly be constituted, to the great benefit of Europe.

"There have been certain matters in dispute between Poland and Czechoslovakia, but thanks to the mediation of France these exist no longer.

"A real spirit of peace and conciliation pervades the five countries, which ought at once to form a 'Peace combination' in close association with France, and also with Great Britain and Italy, because, it must be well known, our 'Petite Entente' has but one end in view—the maintenance of the peace treaties for the continuation of victory."

"The 'Petite Entente,' added M. Jonescu, "by uniting five countries and ensuring among them a policy of confidence and of friendship, will undoubtedly greatly facilitate the task of the Great Powers, France, Great Britain and Italy."

Women And Babies Taken To Bagdad

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 7.—A War Office communiqué announces that, with the exception of a few sick, all the women and children from Kerind have reached Bagdad. General Ironside has arrived at Kazvin to take over the command of the forces in north-west Persia.

'Evil Eye' Woman Terrorises Town

Paris, August 21.—The terror caused by the Salem witches was recalled here this week when residents of Louveciennes, on the edge of the Marly-le-Roi Forest in the Seine-et-Oise, appealed to the police for protection against a woman who possessed an "evil eye" of the mediaeval ages. Even educated inhabitants of the district fear her spell and are threatening to move away from Louveciennes unless the woman is banished or kept under surveillance.

Inasmuch as the French law prohibits burning at the stake which is the only known cure for such a spell, the woman is still at large, and the police commissioner of the district is awaiting instructions from the Paris prefecture before taking any radical measures.

According to residents of Louveciennes, who piously make the sign of the cross whenever mentioning her, the woman is a war refugee from the Ardennes, having lost her husband and her sons in the war. Her look is said to be deadlier than the claws of any beast, and that all she needs to do is to look at anything or any one and it or they immediately wither or fall victims of some illness.

It was said that a profiteering hotel keeper overcharged her recently, whereupon she cursed him. Two minutes later he fell and broke his leg.

FRANCE SEES SLIM HOPE OF COST CUTS

Prediction Made Price of Beefsteak Will Be 10 Francs A Pound Before Christmas

Paris, August 21.—There is little hope of the high cost of living coming down very much, according to French economic experts, who are predicting that the price of beefsteak will be 10 francs a pound before next Christmas, with choicest cuts 50 percent higher than this figure.

The Central Market is frankly alarmed at the situation and declares that unless the French people can be induced to eat frozen meats there will be danger of a famine here next winter.

"Of course, there is always fish to be had as a last resource," it was stated, "but even the supply of fish will be diminished after November, resulting in soaring prices skyward, while the gardens of southern France cannot supply enough vegetables for the whole nation."

With regard to clothing and footwear all hopes of bringing down the price of suits and shoes to within reach of the workers' purse has been abandoned.

Little textile workers, despite the fact that they have received numerous wage increases since the signing of the armistice, declare they are unable to meet their expenses of living under the existing wage schedule and are demanding an other raise of 30 percent, which will bring the ordinary suit of clothes to something like 700 francs.

In the shoe market the fight between manufacturers and dealers was settled recently, the manufacturers agreeing to market their product at a profit not exceeding 40 percent. Before this arrangement manufacturers' profits on shoes amounted to between 100 and 200 percent. Now these manufacturers are finding that an epidemic is spreading among cattle throughout France and that hides are not suitable for dressing, thus creating a shortage of leather for shoes.

French Make War On White Plague Rockefeller Foundation And Red Cross Cure Adopted

Paris, August 21.—The success achieved by the Rockefeller Anti-Tuberculosis Foundation and the American Red Cross Society in their fight against the white plague in many French departments probably will result in the next Parliament here making anti-tuberculosis treatment obligatory. The French have always objected to anything likely to provoke comment about their intimate affairs, but the fact that the death rate here has been reduced nearly 50 percent where public opposition to treatment for tuberculosis has been overcome is having the desired effect.

The work of the Rockefeller Foundation consists of the establishment of dispensaries in the larger towns, with branches in every rural district, where hygienic propaganda is handed out and individual cases treated.

The Vincent Academy of Medicine is the latest institution to enthusiastically adopt American methods of treating this disease. It has announced that in the Department of the Eure, where tuberculosis was ravaging the population, a spontaneous declaration was obtained from 3,000 patients who testified to the good effects derived from the treatment.

$24,000 Profiteer Fine For Utica Department Store

Allen-Schmidt Co., Found Guilty Will Appeal—Part Owner Fined $1,000

Syracuse, N. Y., August 21.—Found guilty of profiteering in fifteen specific instances, the Allen-Schmidt Company, a Utica department store, was fined $24,000 in the Federal court at Canton today by Judge Frank C. Cooper.

Karl Schmidt, part owner, was jointly fined $1,000 with the corporation on a sixteenth count charging conspiracy to increase prices. He was found guilty on nine of twelve counts, but the court dismissed eight for reasonable doubt.

An appeal will be taken by the convicted concern, which posted a bond to cover the fine. In distributing the penalty the court fined $2,000 on each of eleven counts of specific sales of clothing and $2,000 on three others, dismissing one count.

This is the second Utica department store convicted of profiteering. The John A. Roberts Company paid a fine of $55,000. That case is still under appeal.

CONDUCTED BY RUDLEY BURROWS

BROOKLYN WINS SECOND GAME OF WORLD SERIES, THANKS TO MR. GRIMES

'Burly' Twirler Turns Back Cleveland Indians, Holding Them Scoreless Throughout Fast 3-0 Contest At Ebbets Field

By Rudley Burrows

(Amplified from U. S. Naval Radio Despatch)

The Brooklyn Robins, champions of the National League, wreaked royal vengeance on the Cleveland Indians last Wednesday afternoon in the second game of the World's Championship baseball series, played at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

Not only did the Trolley Dodgers defeat the Speakerites, thus bringing the games up to one-all; but, thanks to a magnificent pitching effort by Burleigh Grimes (a Giant cast-off), they turned Cleveland back with nary a run, the final score being 3-0.

According to a wireless despatch received yesterday at the U. S. Naval Radio station in Shanghai, Grimes had the Cleveland batsmen "eating out of his hand" throughout the entire nine innings, which were played in the record-breaking time (for a world-series game) of one hour.

Grimes allowed the Indians the scant sum of seven hits; in addition to which he was invincible in a pinch. This is proven by the fact that Cleveland got 14 men on bases during the conflict, ten of whom were left stranded by their teammates when Grimes tightened up and four were cut down by the Brooklyn fielders.

JIM BAGBY FAILED

Bagby, the Cleveland moundsman, was just as stingy in the matter of hits as his rival, but was far less effective in the emergencies. In the third, with Griffith at bat, Grimes on second and Ivy Olsen on first, Bagby "grooved" a ball which Griffith promptly crashed into left field for a double, scoring Grimes and putting Olsen on third.

He then passed Zach Wheat in order to get at Hy Myers, a weaker swimmer. Myers grounded to Gardner at third and the latter shot the ball to O'Neill, at home, nabbing Olsen. O'Neill, snapping the ball to first in an effort to make a double, hit Myers in the back. Johnston recovered the ball and whizzed it back to the plate, catching Griffith as he attempted to score.

FANS' PROTEST IGNORED

The Brooklyn fans shrieked a protest over O'Neill's blocking of the plate as Griffith slid in, but the umpires ignored them and allowed the putout. This was the one sensational feature of the game, outside of the masterly pitching of Grimes.

This Speaker, who played so brilliantly in center field for the Indians on Tuesday, had few opportunities to repeat his performance. On one occasion he raced over into Jamieson's territory (right field) and made a shoe-string catch off Kilduff's bat, otherwise he did not feature.

HIS ONLY "WOBBLE"

In the eighth inning Grimes wobbled the least bit, passing two Cleveland players, first, but he got out of the hole; the only one he was in all afternoon. His spit-ball was working like a charm all through the controversy; with the result that he turned in an even finer performance than Coveskie had pitched for Cleveland the day before. Bagby's control was poor, especially when he needed it.

The day was not as good for baseball as on Tuesday. The sky was overcast, a chilly wind was blowing and the crowd was unusually apathetic for a world-series gathering. The receipts for the game (official) were $76,164, which indicates an assemblage of about the same size as the day before.

The score by innings follows: Cleveland Brooklyn

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.

1 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 3 7 0

The runs, hits and errors scored by the respective teams in Tuesday's contest were as follows:

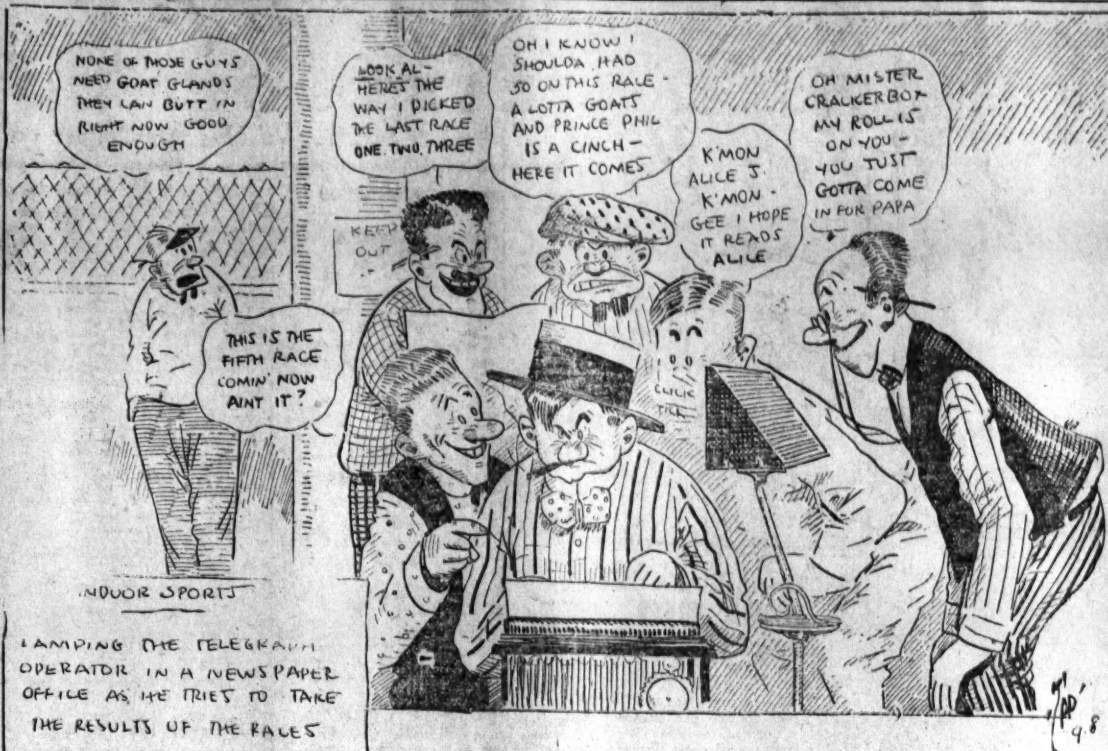

Cleveland, three runs, five hits, no errors. Brooklyn, one run, five hits, one error.

ANOTHER BRIBE STORY

New York, Oct. 7.—Assistant District Attorney Roth today expressed the belief that a gigantic "pool" of money, approximating $500,000, was assembled to "fix" the 1919 world series. This amount, the report says, was found to be unnecessarily large, the Chicago players agreeing to "sell out" for $100,000. Seven of the aforesaid players are now under indictment in Chicago. Together with four alleged gamblers said to have been parties to the disgraceful fraud.

"Bugs" Baer Says:

Over in Poland the soup and fish means sudden funeral expenses. The Reds shoot at the sight of a white collar. The answer to this is to let your collar get dirty.

Over in Brooklyn the red-eyed fans pop at the sight of an ump's guessing expression. They don't drink soda water because they like either soda or water, but just to get ammunition. Ump Quigley pulled a sour decision the other day on the home boys and the fans gave him a 104-piece dinner set of pop bottles.

Over in the seven-year locusts had arrived with limousine tops. Nonrefillable glassware was flying around his crown like fleas on an iron deer. Quigley started to pull in his knob like a turtle, but stuck it out like Nathan. "Hoo!" Incidentally, a lot of the boys think that the roundabout statue of Nathan in City Hall Park is Houdini.

LEAGUE OF NATHANS

Quigley is a game bird. He was going to take it on the loop at first, but when he thought of Hale, he regretted that he had but one right decision to give for his "country." So he stood his ground and made it a League of Nathans. None of the bottles popped Quig. So none of the fans get assists on the plate. Ebbets wishes that the bugs would throw back foul tips like they throw fair bottles.

LOADED WITH AMMUNITION

Croquet twirling used to be limited to St. Loey, but now no metropolitan bug goes out to the game without an English tea table loaded to the lee scuppers with cooking and throwing chinaware.

No ump has been socked with a bottle yet, as the throwing has been much Mex. It doesn't harm anybody and it cuts the grass. The minute you pipe the baby holding his milk bottle in his left mitt, ask for wafers on him, as he is liable to grow up and be a baseball fan.

Unless they serve soda in lily cups no ump should umpire without a mask on the back of his bean and a chest protector on his spine.

BOWLS SEASON CLOSES TODAY; WAYSIDE PARK

Yangtze Club Will Stage Last Contests Of Year This Afternoon

(By "Skip")

What is practically the last contest of interest in the lawn bowls world this season will take place at Wayside Park this afternoon. The occasion is the winding up of the Yangtze Club Bowling Club's season.

The afternoon's sport will consist of points-games, rink competitions, drawing to the jack for ladies etc., etc.

Previous experience with the way in which things are done down at Yangtze leads us to expect big doings; and, if fine weather prevails, every one present would have a good time.

At the conclusion of the afternoon's games the cups and prizes won during the season will be presented, also the ladies prizes.

The games will commence at 2 o'clock with the points-games, ten will be provided and all are welcome. Members of other clubs particularly requested to bring along their wives and lady friends.

The club's winners for 1920 are as follows:

Singles Championship: F. Perrier; Runner-up: A. McGregor.

Singles Handicap: A. C. Haverton; Runner-up: W. Fothergill.

Pairs Championship: R. Dorrance and J. Grieve, Runners-up: C. Richards and A. Mackintosh.

Rink Championship: R. C. Atkinsonhead, C. R. H. Brown, W. Fothergill.

"Wilson" Cup: (for "Gimms" or players who have never won anything). Winner: J. Grieve; Runner-up: J. Tomlinson.

"Kiangwo" Cup: A. Taylor; Runner-up: F. Lloyd.

Tennis Section—Mixed Doubles: Mrs. Bloom and L. Smith.

Fighter Can Wear Hero-Mark In Ring

New York, Sept. 28.—There are not many boxers, in the world who can boast of being able to wear their division insignia on their boxing shirt.

Frankie May, who was known in the ring world as Battling Kid, is one of the few. He enlisted early in the war, took part in all the battles in which the Twenty-seventh Division, U. S. A., participated, and was wounded twice. Despite that he was able to take part in all the boxing tournaments and exhibitions given by his division, of which he was acclaimed the bantamweight champion.

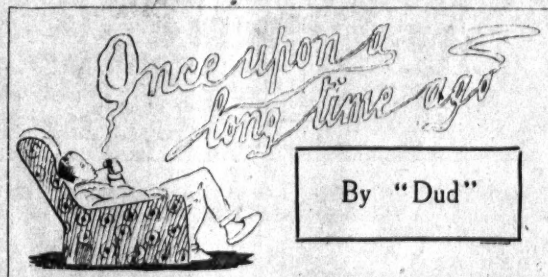

Shortly before the division turned its face homeward Major General Ryan heard of the little fellow's record and May was sent for. He was told that when he returned to civilian life and if he took part in any boxing contests he would be accorded the unusual privilege of wearing the Twenty-seventh Division insignia.

Pott's Injury Serious; Tennis Match Halted

Word came to THE CHINA PRESS late last evening to the effect that the scheduled championship tennis match between J. Tanaka and W. S. A. Pott, which was to have been played at the Country Club this afternoon, has been indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Pott's weak knee, which he wrenched badly during the semi-final match with Mr. Roberts last Wednesday, has swollen to large and painful proportions and his doctor has forbidden him to play.

Honorary Secretary George, of the S.L.T.A., announced last night that the match would be put over for a week, in the hope that Mr. Pott might be able to play out the title round.

America's champion! A chance of taking a set, I mean; for I doubt if the local man's stamina would carry him through a match against one of the "Big Three."

I looked for some wonderful tennis today, when Pott and Tanaka met. Tanaka has had a comparatively easy time through the lower bracket of the tournament, while Pott has drawn Sheldon, Wade and Roberts and been extended to three sets with two of them. Tanaka has not yet lost a set; Pott has lost two.

PICKED POTT TO WIN

Notwithstanding these facts, I was inclined to believe that Pott would conquer the Japanese star, providing his weak knee-cap stood up under the strain. At any rate, the guests at the title-court when the match comes off will surely see some splendid play, although it will hardly equal that of Pott and Roberts on Wednesday last.

As with the singles men, the doubles matches this year have been particularly fine. The championship match between Messrs. Wade & Tanaka and Messrs. Townsend & Carnavaro was a trifle disappointing, since the former pair seemed to suddenly forget that they were partners and got most terribly in each other's way. I should have enjoyed seeing Pott and Sheldon opposed the steady French player and the brilliant Portuguese.

TRIBUTE TO MR. GEORGE

Taken all in all, the season has been a wonderful one—and a very large part of the credit is due Mr. A. H. George, Honorary Secretary of the S. L. T. A. Thanks to his tact, discrimination, thorough knowledge of the game itself and indefatigable efforts to advance its standing.

What tennis it was! Time after time there were twenty strokes exchanged in the dispute of a single point. Brilliant rallies came on every other served ball—and all of this after Mr. Pott had wrenched a previously-injured knee and all but retired from the competition!

A SINCERE OPINION

Hardly anyone will believe me when I say, after seeing both players in action, that I really think "Bill" Pott, at the top of his game, would have a chance against "Bill" Johnston, the

BASKET BALLERS MEET AND PLAN FEATURE SEASON

Glaugue Re-elected President, No 'Hong' Teams To Enter In Foreign League

The Shanghai basketball season of 1920-21 got off to a flying start last evening when representatives of a large number of foreign firms and institutions met in the rooms of the Chinese "Y" to discuss plans for the coming season.

The first business of the evening was the election of officers for the coming season. President C. D. Glaugue, who made such a splendid record last year, was re-elected as head of the League. The other officers chosen were as follows:

Vice President, R. B. Nicholas, American Trading Company; Secretary, H. E. Marsden, Standard Oil Company; Treasurer, Dr. C. G. Irons.

NO "HONG" TEAMS

It was finally decided not to have any "hong" teams in the new "Foreign" League. The foreign players, with the exception of the American School team (which will come in intact) will be assigned to teams by a committee, to be chosen by the president.

A preliminary series of games will be played to ascertain whether or not the teams have been properly chosen. It is especially desired that foreigners who know and play basketball notify President Glaugue of their willingness to participate in the games of the present season.

The schedules of the foreign and Chinese leagues will be announced within the next few days.

among the leading sports of Shanghai, Mr. George has done a great public service. That this service will be recognised in a tangible manner at the close of the fast-waning season is a consummation which the game owes to such an efficient and popular official as he has proved himself to be.

FINE PROGRAM OF RACING AT S.R.C. COURSE TODAY; ST. LEGER DUE ON MONDAY

'Longchamps Steeplechase' Features This Afternoon's Nine-Race Card—'Welterweight Cup' May Be Added—Dates Of S.R.C. Autumn Meeting

By "Grandstand"

"Over the Wall at the Polo Ground, Once Around and In!" This is the course mapped out for the Longchamps Steeplechase, one of the eight races which will feature the fifth extra meeting of the Shanghai Race Club at the Race Course, beginning at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon.

Should six starters be secured for the Marseilles Welterweight Cup, open to China ponies to be ridden by jockeys who can scale not less than 168 pounds in racing colors, this three-quarter-mile event will be an added feature of the day.

Just as last Saturday's events were named in honor of Australia today's features compliment France. Thus, the first event of the afternoon is "The Calais" hurdle-race, over nine furlongs of green turf. "The Longchamps" follows, immediately after which will come "The Marseilles Plate," a half-mile dash.

"THE PARIS" FIFTH

Number Four on the program is "The Versailles Stakes," at seven furlongs, and on its heels one of the two feature handicaps, "The Paris," a mile and one-half long.

The other handicap, "The Autell," over the mile course, will follow "The Paris;" to be followed, in turn, by "The Nice Selling Race," at the same distance. If the welterweight-cup event is not run "The Boulogne Cup," at six furlongs, will bring the day's entertainment to a close.

A FINE BOOKLET

Possessors of copies of the new "Racing Record," issued during the week by Secretary A. W. Olsen of the Race Club, will be aided materially in their efforts to "dope out" the winners of the respective events; although it is proverbial that China Ponies, like thoroughbreds, consistently refuse to "run to form."

Secretary Olsen's latest contribution to the turn literature is splendidly compiled and contains a wealth of valuable information regarding the ponies of the season, many of which will be found sporting winks this afternoon. The booklet is also a beautiful example of the printer's art and a credit to all who have had a hand in its publication.

ST. LEGER ON MONDAY

On Monday afternoon, beginning at 1:00 p.m., the International Recreation Club will hold its 70th meeting at Kiangwan Track, to be featured by the classic St. Leger, which will undoubtedly attract a large gathering to the pretty suburban course.

Special motor cars will leave the Central Garage every minute, beginning at noon, while special trains, carrying patrons to the

Dates Set For English Racing Season Of 1921

England's flat racing season for 1921 will begin on March 14 and will end on Nov. 26, according to the dates recently made public in London by the Jockey Club.

The Epsom Derby, the world's most famous turf event, will be run on June 1. The Oaks will be contested on June 2. May 4, at Newmarket, is the date set for the Two Thousand Guineas, while on May 6, at the same track, the One Thousand Guineas will be contested.

The St. Leger is set for decision at Doncaster on Sept. 7. The schedule provides for ninety-one racing days in all.

track, will leave at 11:50 a.m., 12:25 p.m., and 1:15 p.m. Entrance tickets may be obtained at the gate.

THE AUTUMN MEET

The regular Autumn Race Meeting of the Shanghai Race Club, will be held at the Race Course on the 8th, 9th, 10th and 13th days of next month. Entries for this meet will close at the Grandstand on Wednesday evening, October 13 at 6 p.m. Entry forms are now available.

It is expected that this meeting will be a very brilliant affair, providing the weather is propitious. Many excellent ponies have been developed during the season; and these, arrayed against the popular performers of other days, should provide great excitement.

MEN who have the right kind of material in them will assert their personality and rise in spite of a thousand adverse circumstances. You cannot keep them down. Every obstacle seems only to add to their ability to get on. So WITH WIDLER'S MUSK. Forget all the other trade names by which Musk is known, but remember WIDLER'S MUSK: genuine Musk—minus the pods—protected by the world-renowned Trade name "WIDLER'S MUSK." A one or two-ounce sample of WIDLER'S MUSK (Minus PODS) will be sent to you on receipt of Chinese Postal Money Order. Price prepaid $40. per ounce. No extra charges. Address: MR. WORLD EXPANSION

Steel Holdings 3,500,000 Tons
Less Than Result Of Unimpaired Increase

New York, August 18.—In spite of the fact that the seagoing tonnage of the United States is today nearly 10,400,000 tons greater than in 1914, an advance of more than 500 percent and in spite of the intensive steamship production in Great Britain and the United States for themselves and other countries, the world's steel steam tonnage is now less by 3,500,000 tons than that which it would have been if the war had not interfered with the normal rate of expansion, according to a statement issued yesterday by Lloyd's Register of Shipping.

BRITAIN ACTIVE

Britain is now building nearly 1,500,000 gross tons of ships more than this country is building, according to the statement, but British holdings of steamers are still 781,000 below the total at the outbreak of the war.

The tonnage of the United States today is placed at 16,042,000, while that of the United Kingdom is 18,330,000. The British lead before the war was 14,000,000 tons and today it is approximately 2,300,000, with indications, however, that the British lead will increase from now on.

The British lead in steel steamers, however, is 4,686,000 tons, as Americans own 1,234,000 tons of wooden steamers, against 35,000 tons held by the British. The distribution of the tonnage of the two nations by types is as follows:

	United States
Steel steamers	13,113,000
Iron steamers	237,000
Wooden steamers	1,234,000

Total steamers	14,579,000
Sailing ships	1,475,000

Wooden steamers	35,000

Total steamers	18,110,000
Sailing ships	220,000

Total all types	18,330,000

luring the war and now owns 45 percent of the world's sailing vessels. The sailing ships form 6 percent of the world's tonnage today, as against 8 percent in 1914 and 23 percent in 1902.

There is now a total of $1,595 vessels of all kinds, according to the new Register Book, of which 1,082 are sailing vessels and 2,613 steamers. Apart from Germany and Austria, the United Kingdom and Greece are the only nations showing any considerable reduction in tonnage as owned prior to 1914. Denmark and Sweden show minor losses and Norway a small gain.

Germany occupied second place as a sea-going nation in 1914, with 5,000,000 tons of merchant steamers. Her tonnage has now shrunk to 419,000 tons, the rest of her shipping having been captured, requisitioned, sunk or allotted to the Allies by the treaty.

During the calendar year 1919 the new vessels classed by Lloyd's aggregated 4,283,000 tons, of which nearly 2,200,000 were built in the United States.

Says He Found League
A Failure In England

Officials Look To America For Money And Soldiers, Reports Dr. John L. Elliott

New York, August 22.—Another view of the League of Nations has been brought back from Europe by Dr. John L. Elliott, President of the National Federation of Settlements, who contends that "it is a total failure in England."

"Officials of the League in England think that America is their greatest hope. They want our wealth and soldiers to assist them in re-establishing the old order. In the clash of nations and races the League does not now appear to be a determining factor. It has no influence and its actual business stops with acknowledgments of notifications and nebulous promises of something will be done. 'Just what the 'something' is no one seems to know or care."

Discussing economic conditions in countries visited by him, he said: "Austria has less than 4 percent of her ordinary coal supply and this is true of other countries. This means that factories will shut down and food is lacking. The man who can remedy this condition will be rendering the world the greatest possible service. Millions of people are living in daily fear of freezing to death this winter."

"The cost of living is especially high in Northwestern and Central Europe. Due to the low rate of exchange, a reel of cotton costs $5.50, a pair of shoes with paper in the soles costs $40, leather shoes cost $50 to $75 and oranges are 50 cents to $1 apiece. Cauliflower is $2 a pound. Pork and beans in American army ration tins cost $2.25. Shoe laces are 75 cents. Everything a man needs to wear or to eat costs in proportion."

Dr. Elliott reported that food was an immediate need. In Poland, he said, "they have for breakfast a coffee substitute, margarine and bread. Dinner consists of cabbage, potatoes and one small herring for four people. No child over one year old gets fresh milk. Meat is unknown at the evening meal of the laborer."

"The children in Austria and Germany are starving. Unless they have food you will find that there will grow up an embittered generation. All the children are practically barefooted, and everywhere these days in many parts of Europe you will find men and women also barefooted. In Vienna the death rate in 1913 was 22.2 per thousand; in 1918 it was 76 per thousand. The tuberculosis mortality has increased 300 percent over the pre-war rate."

TO CURE SLEEPLESSNESS
WITHOUT DRUGS

A READER'S COMMON-SENSE ADVICE.

The enormously increased sales and soaring prices of opiates and "sleeping powders" since the war began prove that this dangerous drug-taking has become habitual to an appalling extent. Insomnia, like headache, is always directly due to high blood pressure and congestion of blood in the head. The brain remains too active, so too much blood rushes through its veins, and sleep becomes impossible. The usual procedure is to depress the heart action with drugs, and thus slacken the circulation (the heart must always slow down in sleep) so high blood pressure and throbbing therefore stops. This is done by taking bromides, acetanilide, etc.

A few weeks ago my wife's insomnia nearly drove her insane, and besides always caused numbness and palpitation. Then she was attacked by acute rheumatic pain. To help this latter she took hot baths for a few nights just before retiring and in the water dissolved a tablespoonful of refined Rock Bath Salts. Which any chemist can supply. A half-pound is fully sufficient for even the worst cases. These salts baths soon stopped her rheumatic pains, they entirely cured her insomnia. Her doctor explained that the hot saltwater expands the surface blood vessels, thereby slackening the circulation slightly and drawing excess of blood from the brain. Also it soothes the nerves, and by relieving all congestion quickly stops any discomfort or restlessness, so sleep always follows the moment you lie down. In this way the bath safely does all that dangerous opiates, etc., possibly could, and there can be no bad reaction. Take my tip, fear this out, and next time avoid dangerous "drugs." You can quickly cure it by following my advice.—D. L. C.

Nure-Messrs. A. S. Watson & Co. of 15 Nanking Road, Shanghai, are at present in possession of 100,000 supplies of Roudel Bath Salts.

MANY U.S. BUYERS AT STYLE SHOW

Americans Form Majority Of Purchasers At Paris Mannequin Spectacle

HEAT OPPRESSED MODELS

Majority Of Importations To America Consist Of High Priced Creations

Paris, August 21.—One of the most enticing, always picturesque spectacles is that of the Paris mannequins' great summer week, when the fashions are fixed for civilized world's winter wear. This week saw such a spectacle, and as usual American buyers formed the largest delegation present in nearly all the big dressmaking establishments of Paris.

Of the leaders of fashion the world over who depend on this yearly display for their gowns probably few if any give a moment's thought to the ordeal the pretty Paris mannequins have to submit to before they get the expert stamp of approval on the gowns they wear for this fashion display.

Imagine, for example, a huge, luxuriously furnished salon in the heart of the de luxe district of Paris, with buyers present from all parts of the world, and all of them ready to criticize, to ridicule or to smile with pleasure at all but the price of the garments, which represent the climax of a whole year's study by the fashion makers.

The day is sultry and the streets are dusty, but all this must be overlooked by the mannequins. Early in the afternoon the procession starts. Mannequins attired as brides smile their happiness beneath veils and lace. After them come other mannequins gowned as maids of honor. Still other mannequins are selected for the fashion show because their figures are adapted to eccentric gowns and costumes, but weeks of study have to be passed for them to attain the proper degree of haughtiness to walk around the salon.

Then there is a type of professional beauty who is attired in a ball gown. She has slender rounded shoulders and finely moulded arms and wears wonderful jewels. Tall mannequins always are selected to show off tailored suits, but a most interesting display is that of the tea gowns, when an opportunity is invariably found to exhibit the finest lingerie.

Always there are plenty of male visitors present at these displays, but they are there for business, and when they make a sign for a mannequin to come closer to them it is not to make a dinner engagement, but merely to examine the gown or suit or to suggest some minor change to make it more suited to an American clientele.

Mannequins' week this year has been one of the hottest on record, and despite the human tendency to perspire in such weather and the evident desire for rest, the models have had to continue their make believe life for five or six hours daily, and often wearing costly but uncomfortable furs, which added to their misery, until the head mannequin signalled that the day's work was done.

Individual buyers are rarely admitted to the midsummer display, but several Paris modistes took advantage of the presence of American tourists here this year to build up again the clientele they lost during the war.

It was admitted here today, however, that Americans are showing a tendency to buy gowns made at home rather than come to Paris for ideas, so that while there still are thousands of gold and silver thread and finest silk gowns going to America from Paris there has been a remarkable falling off in the exportation of cheaper models.

It is safe to prophesy that when Mr. Newly Rich gets the bill for his wife's Parisian ball gown this year he will have a right to worry over his bank roll, as even with the present low rate of exchange at which the franc is selling it will be impossible to buy a Paris model gown in New York for less than $600.

SCHOOL OPENED

(China Press Correspondence)
Wushu, Ku, October 7.—The Middle School founded here by the local association of the alumni of St. John's University and operated under their management, has opened this autumn with a full quota of students. It is now two full years since this school was established and it has already proved its worth to the community which was without a school of this grade before this one was started.

Marseilles Wants Modern Pied Piper

Paris, August 21.—A modern Pied Piper of Hamelin is wanted in Marseilles. Otherwise French food supplies worth millions of francs will be lost as a result of the depredations by rats in the dockyards and railroad warehouses, which are filled to overflowing with food-stuffs for which there is no transport available now.

Furthermore, Marseilles reports a great increase in the number of cases of fever and other diseases which is believed to be attributable to rats and mice.

The Marseilles Municipal Council has decided to offer a bounty of the equivalent of 8 cents for each rat delivered to it, and the equivalent of 4 cents for each mouse.

A similar solution of the problem was attempted in Marseilles ten years ago, and for a time threatened to bankrupt the warehouse owners, when organized rat catches were paid half a franc a head for each rat they delivered, but the rat catchers collected another half franc for each rat tail from Bordeaux, which adopted the other extreme in its payments.

A LITTLE VINEGAR HELPS

Prevents Growth Of Bacteria In Canning, Federal Experts Say

If it were not for the microscopic but ever-present bacteria housewives would not have much trouble with canned products spoiling, experts of the Home Experimental Kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture say. As it is, however, if they are given half a chance bacteria will soon make a jar of fruit or vegetables ready for the garbage bucket.

It may not always be possible to kill all bacteria in home canning, for some of those germs can endure a high degree of heat for a long time. Nevertheless, jars and cans must be processed long enough to kill as many bacteria as possible.

In the case of fruit or tomatoes even though many of the bacteria survive the short heating process, few or none will grow because of the acid present. Heavy syrup added to the fruit also prevents the growth of bacteria. For this reason fruit requires a much shorter time of processing than vegetables, with the exception of tomatoes.

During the last year, the Home Experimental Kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture has been experimenting with the addition of a small amount of acid—vinegar—to nonacid vegetables being canned. The work is being continued and the results thus far indicate that one to four tablespoons of vinegar added to a quart jar help greatly in reducing the amount of spoilage. When the vinegar is added the time of processing can be reduced. For instance, it is found that corn, which ordinarily is difficult to can successfully, keeps well when four tablespoons of vinegar are added to a quart jar, processed three hours continuously. String beans, old peas and spinach are other vegetables successfully canned by this method.

The addition of vinegar to canned vegetables in the amounts mentioned modifies to some degree the natural flavor of the vegetable, but the result is not objectionable to most people, and in many instances is well received.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.
The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable. The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria. "Your preparation known as Castoria is much used and has always found it an efficient and speedy remedy." J. A. FARRER, M.D., St. Louis, Mo. "I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." EDWARD FARRER, M.D., Brooklyn, N.Y.

"For several years I recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. FARRER, M.D., New York City. "Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a pure and reliable medicine for infants and children, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." J. A. FARRER, M.D., Kansas City, Mo.

Health, Beauty And The Home

Training a Servant

By Mrs. Christine Frederick,
The Distinguished Authority on Household Efficiency.

Of course, before I begin this short talk it is assumed that the mistress has a servant to train. Possibly she is one of the lucky few who are able to find houseworkers in this day of difficult labor. The other day a correspondent asked me how to arrange work for her young helper, who always seemed to keep the place in confusion.

Naturally, if a worker has been well trained in some other situation it is well to "let well enough alone." One of the difficulties in the past has been that no two mistresses have similar standards, and that, therefore, the worker is being constantly told to do something in a way different from what she previously learned. If I found that a worker achieved good results—no matter if she did not do each task the way I thought best—I would let her do it that way without trying to change her at all.

If I could make a witticism I would say that the first rule of training a servant is to have a well-trained mistress. "Like mistress, like maid." No inefficient mistress can expect to train others to become efficient. It will be an excellent thing for the mistress to do the work herself several times before requiring others to do it for her. Let her use her superior intelligence and plan the work—even make a "time study" of it under normal conditions to estimate the extent of the work.

My next advice is not to ask the untrained worker to do too many different things together, because she becomes confused. Remember in dealing with most young workers that their minds are like those of children—they do not reason and they must be told only one thing at a time. And that one thing must be told quietly, clearly and without emotion.

Third, write down a schedule of work, not only for the whole week, but for every day. Does she wash the dishes before making the beds? Does she brush up the dining room before doing the kitchen? On what days is she to thoroughly clean the house? And so on. Let the mistress herself decide what is the best order of work, then write down this order and see that it is followed. Also this written schedule is as necessary to the mistress as to the maid, because all too often the mistress forgets only to have her own work done.

In no place is it so important to write down orders as in the menu for a meal. It is most foolish to say, "Now, for supper to-night we will have pork chops and a bread pudding and a tomato salad and mashed potatoes," or whatever it is. To reel things off glibly like this is most foolish, because some item is sure to be forgotten. If the menu is written down, then there can be no excuse for its not being followed. The planning of meals and the ordering of supplies should be done right after breakfast, so that the worker will have ample time—possibly to prepare some part of the meal in the forenoon—or so that if the desired foods are not in the house they may be procured in time.

Every schedule for a permanent worker should have some kind of rest period in the afternoon when she shall be free to go to her room, to dress or to go out if she wants to without question. If such a definite period is assigned to her she will be more likely to get her work done in time.

The thing to be remembered is that there are personal idiosyncrasies in every worker, and that each worker does some kind of work especially well and other tasks differently or poorly. It is hardly worth while for the mistress to attempt to change a worker's natural manner of work or habits! Some workers plod slowly for hours and they are not the kind that can ever work quickly for short periods. The thing to do is to try to find out how they work best and improve their efficiency along that particular line.

Also find out what kinds of work they do best. Some women prefer cooking and clean very faultily; others are excellent laundresses or cleaners and do not like cooking at all. If one employs only one worker it is foolish to expect perfection from her in every branch. Not even the best of mistresses do all things well!

With certain workers it is possible to follow out the idea of "team work between equals," and to share and share alike the household duties without any lowering of standards. This is always a very happy result when possible. The reason in the past why so many maids have forsaken household work for other occupations has been solely because the work has been so laid down on by mistresses and their families and the worker slightly spoken of as "not slinger," etc.

It would be a wonderful thing if every employer of home labor could act as forewoman or office manager for six weeks before handing help in her own home.

She seldom gives the recognition which comes with responsibility as she should, but is always ready to place blame and seldom gives credit.

Have I talked about servant training? Not so much as mistress training, for that I believe to be the more important of the two. A well-trained mistress with a sense of fair play will have no difficulty whatever in training some other woman to help her with the household work.

Don't Grow Lazy!

By Lina Cavaleri,
The Most Famous Living Beauty.

DON'T grow lazy in the Summer and resign yourself to becoming fat with the flimsy excuse, "It's too hot to exercise." It is, indeed, too hot at midday, but not in the early morning or the late evening.

The best plan for you to follow is to exercise all the year round, but it should be done chiefly in the morning and evening to avoid the midday heat. Practise a little and often rather than long and irregularly. Accustom the body to its regular exercise, say at 7:30 in the morning and at ten o'clock at night for ten minutes, instead of intermittent and spasmodic hours. A little exercise day after day should be your motto for the accomplishment of sure results in improving your physical appearance.

A good chest developing and at the same time abdomen reducing exercise is that of holding the hands straight out before you, stretching the arm muscles as much as possible, then slowly sweeping them to the sides with a swimming-like stroke, all the while keeping them on a level with the shoulders.

Hold them thus until you feel a strain upon the muscles, counting five while you inhale deeply and slowly, five more while you exhale and five while you slowly yet forcefully expel the air from the lungs until they seem entirely empty. This exercise expands the lungs and develops the breasts, and at the same time has the virtue of making the stomach and abdomen smaller.

Another excellent exercise that does not make an over-draft upon the strength is standing with the chest well up and lungs expanded, arms straight out at the sides and on a level with the shoulders. While holding the arms thus relax the hands. Imagine them hanging loosely from the wrists and heavy. Practise shaking them round and round for several moments as if you were trying to shake them off. To make the body supple and at the same time to reduce the hips place a bath mat or blanket upon the floor and lie flat upon your back without a cushion or a pillow for the head. Try slowly rising to a sitting position without help of the hands. Let them hang loosely and relaxed at the sides.

Also, reverse this and lie upon the stomach, raising your weight slowly with the aid of the hands until you are practically kneeling. A fourth exercise may be taken upon the bed, but it is better to take it upon the floor. The bed yields with the body while the solid floor offers a certain amount of resistance.

Again lie flat upon the back. Raise the right leg slowly until the leg forms a right angle with the trunk of the body. Imagine that the sole of the foot reaches the ceiling. Press the foot with all your strength against this imaginary ceiling. Repeat this half a dozen times. Make the same movement with the left foot. Then alternate. Then repeat them together. There is no more valuable exercise known for reducing the hips and abdomen.

Clasping the hands tightly above the head and keeping the elbows stiff, meanwhile breathing very deeply and slowly is truly an admirable means of developing the chest.

If the exercises in your own bed, room, or, better still, on a screened veranda, can be followed by a morning gallop in the park or a country road, all the better.

And if you can sleep on the veranda or roof during your vacation or the entire Summer, your health and beauty will have been doubled by the Autumn.

Another excellent means for reduction is to begin the day with a walk in the morning. Don't go out simply for the pleasure of a stroll, but walk briskly and rapidly. Only thus can you hope to melt off the superfluous flesh.

Do not forget that Summer is the best time in the world to take off excess weight, because the perspiration that the warm weather induces is highly conducive to the melting away of the soft flesh. Moreover, the system requires less nourishment in the Summer time. The foods are lighter and less fat producing. This makes it easier to keep up the exercises that will literally pull off the unsightly flesh by the pound, provided you have sufficient determination to follow out such a regimen regularly.

The Russo-Polish Armistice

THE news that an armistice has been signed between Russia and Poland is the best that has come out of Europe in a long time, for it may be regarded as the prelude to general peace in Europe. The crisis of a few weeks ago, when the menace of a Red revolution in Germany, fostered and supported by the Russian Bolsheviks, hung over the world, is past. It is now evident that the Bolsheviks are not in a position to attempt the over-running of Europe. Nor is their position likely to become stronger.

A recent Washington despatch, based on the new diplomatic situation created by the Polish military victories, regarded two main facts as having been established.

First, the psychology of the masses in both Poland and Russia is such that no purely "offensive" military operations can be carried out by those who wish to use those masses for their own aggressive aims.

Second, there is at the same time, a very potential capacity within these same masses for national defense, and for resisting and thwarting aggression launched from without.

The Russian national spirit is proved to have been strong enough to clear Russian territory of the invading Poles. But, as soon as the situation turned and the Russian Red armies were led into Poland, where instead of defending their own national territory, they were used by their commanders for aggressive purposes, the military equation changed overnight. The same Polish forces that had fled in the face of the Red advance and had been unable to withstand Russian pressure turned around and drove the Russians out.

These facts are felt to be of enormous importance. They are extremely gratifying to leaders in Washington who are friends of international peace, and who believe in the need of instituting justice in international relations through the development of national democracy. They appeal to these friends of peace and democracy as disclosing the ultimate power that will rout imperialism in the east of Europe, wherever it lifts its head, and bring forth pacification.

This very psychology of the situation, it is expected, will undermine any attempts of Polish landlord imperialism to restore and perpetuate its feudal holdings in Western Russia and in the Ukraine. And the same psychology demonstrates, in the best opinion of the ablest of revolutionary imperialists, as exemplified in Mr. B. B. Shaw, to accomplish its avowed purpose of spreading the Soviet revolutionary experiment at the point of the sword into Europe and around the world.

Great importance is attached to this disclosure of the psychological attitude of the Russian masses who were involved in the effort of the Soviet leaders to hurl them aggressively through Poland into Western Europe. It has brought the conviction among informed students of the situation that although Lenin and his associates of the Red terror have in no way changed their purpose of bringing about world revolution along Communist lines, and have not in the least abandoned their determination to do so with any weapons they may conveniently find at hand, they are incapacitated from use of the military instrument of the Red army for this purpose.

The teeth of aggressive Bolshevism are broken. This is the main and most gratifying conclusion drawn from the latest developments. The immediate threat which was hanging as a spectre over Europe has been dissipated. Europe need only can, but confidential official reports show, is able to breathe now more freely. This is due not so much to the military capacity of the Poles as to the interior psychological development that has taken place within the masses of the Russian people, just as the victory of the Red army against Poland a few weeks ago was not due to Bolshevik achievement but was the result of the psychology prevailing within the Polish and Russian ranks.

Close observers in Washington had long since foreseen these very developments. Unfortunately, European policy, instead of seeking fundamentals, has been following expedients and ignoring realities. The shift in the situation, however, has brought one most important result in the alteration that has taken place in the attitude of David Lloyd George, the British Premier. It is now clear that the bluff of the Bolshevik offensive had much to do with the sudden change in Mr. Lloyd George's policies. It is hoped that it has put an end to the humiliating character of the negotiations which were being conducted with the triumphant Reds.

The feeling prevails that everything is now moving steadily toward the point of view expressed in Secretary of State Colby's note of August 10 to the Italian Ambassador in answer to that Ambassador's inquiry as to the position of the United States regarding the Russian-Polish situation. It is quite generally predicted in Washington that this note is going to become the pillar around which European international politics will concentrate. More and more the conviction is growing that the Colby note was one of the greatest and most successful moves in recent American diplomacy. Its effects are enormous already, and it may well be the turning point that marks the beginning of a new course of active diplomatic strategy on the part of the Government of the United States.

Attention is particularly attracted to one feature of the note, that is, that it recommends a remedy for the situation, and as illustrating the progress that has since been made observers point to this passage in the Lucerne announcement of Premier Lloyd George and Giolitti: "What has befallen in this short war to the invaders of national rights, whether in Russia or in Poland, ought to teach wisdom to aggressors. The world, east and west, is crying for peace, but peace is only obtainable on the basis of full recognition of the liberties of nations. Civilization itself, shaken and weakened by five years of incessant warfare, is menaced by the prospect of indefinite prolongation of conflict among nations. The British and Italian Governments, therefore, are united in urging that every effort be made to bring to a conclusion the existing conditions of strife between nations."

It is realized how fully the spirit of this expression of Lloyd George and Giolitti concurs with the motives that underlie the American announcement embodied in Secretary Colby's note of August 10.

While the Lucerne conference did not indicate any practical solution, the American note did propose as one of the most effective means for dealing with the situation, together with the guarantee of Polish integrity and independence, a joint declaration of the powers guaranteeing the integrity of Russia and the non-transgression of her frontiers.

The main purpose of the American declaration was to create a feeling in Russia that that country was immune from attack against her territorial integrity and not endangered in her national sovereignty. It is believed that if such a conviction of immunity and safety should spread within the Russian masses there would no impulse left for maintaining a huge army and that the Red forces, which will always continue to be a potential threat as long as they remain, will probably disintegrate, just as the Russian Army collapsed in 1917. Because German and Bolshevik propaganda persuaded the Russians that there was no danger of enmity on the part of the German people.

It was strongly felt in Washington that the instrument of Bolshevik militarism can be thoroughly undermined only by the manifestation of a liberal policy by the whole of Europe, strong enough to persuade the incredulous Russian that his country will be safe, and its carrying out in forms so practical as to end his present suspicion.

The effect of the American policy will depend upon whether Poland and France are prepared to endorse the practical side of the proposal. So far as the Poles are concerned, this would require a solemn announcement by Poland which would once for all discard the imperialistic aspirations of the feudal landlords to extend their influence beyond the ethnic frontier fixed for the nation by the Paris Conference. It is considered that this danger should not be minimized.

The Polish landlord has commanding position in Poland's military and foreign policies. He constitutes the Junker class of Poland, which has the same aspects of strength, unity of action, wealth and brilliancy as did German Junkerism which led Germany to disaster, and which characterized the Russian aristocracy, and was the basis of the unfortunate policies of the late Czar. The cause of democracy, justice and pacification of the world is considered great enough to demand the repudiation and undoing of Polish Junkerism just as it demanded the overthrow of Junkerism in Germany and Russia.

It will be the attitude of France that will be decisive. The feeling prevails in Russia that there has been encouragement—even if only in certain irresponsible circles—of the Polish advance. At present the Polish defense is intimately interwoven with French assistance and with the participation of General Weygand and his numerous officers. It is felt that in case Poland does not endorse the policy of sober reason and democratic spirit France, through her active participation in Polish affairs, cannot avoid sharing the responsibility.

The feeling prevails that everything is now moving steadily toward the point of view expressed in Secretary of State Colby's note of August 10 to the Italian Ambassador in answer to that Ambassador's inquiry as to the position of the United States regarding the Russian-Polish situation. It is quite generally predicted in Washington that this note is going to become the pillar around which European international politics will concentrate. TO BE OR NOT TO BE

I'd rather be a Could Be
If I could not be an Are,
For a Could Be is a Maybe
With a chance of touching par.
I'd rather be a Has Been
Than a Might Have Been by far;
For a Might Have Been has never been.
But a Has was once an Are.

LINES FROM LETTERS

Dear Domino, Your article in today's 'Press,' re Barrie's new play 'Mary Rose' brings to mind the sweet little poem:
Mary Rose sat on a tack—
Mary rose—Yours, So-Would-You.

AND THAT REMINDS ME

Owen Moore left town one day,
Owning more than he could pay;
Owen Moore came back that way—
Owning more!
And now he hasn't even a Mary.

STILL MORE SLANG

Dear Domino, Is Cockney slang? Yours, Londoner.
My Dear Londoner, I'm not going to cross words with you. I have been told that Cockney is real old English, but my friend Webster-Murray-Johnson has a little to say about Cockney.
"Cockney" is an Utopian region of indolence and luxury, formerly denominated the country of Cocagne.

THESE LINES

"Were I in my castle of Bungey,
Upon the river Waveney,
I would be care for the king of Cockney."

Whencesoever they come, indicate that London was formerly known by this satirical name, and hence a Londoner came to be called a Cockney.

The term Cockney appears in the "Promptorium" to imply a child spoiled by too much indulgence.

But here is a clipping from a Cockney song that used to be warbled by Harry Ford.
I'm a fellow quick to act,
Yesterday will prove the fact,
I was strolling for a stroll beside the like,
Nah, don't flink I'm up the pole,
Cause I like to like a stroll,
And I'll like one if there's nothing else to like.

In the water all at once, I could see some silly dandy,
He was sharing 'elp I'm dranning.
So I turned. I'm always werry calm.
When there's cause for great alarm—well
As far as cool be'avior is concerned,
I don't want to sly a word about it.

When I saw the fellah couldn't swim,
What did I do, there you are well ask me?
Did I frow a lifebelt art to 'im?
Nah, because I didn't 'ave a life belt.
When that pore chap saw me on the shore,
'e sed 'elp I'm dranning, I sed are yer?
Then what d'yer want to tork about it for.

Reply To Edwards On Prohibition

BY SAMUEL WILSON

To one who is conversant with the facts on the present liquor situation the statement of Governor Edwards of New Jersey, quoted in a special article in The New York Times of Sunday, August 15, sounds like the last whimper of disappointment. Between this program and the nullification of the Eighteenth Amendment there are a number of lions in the way.

First, there are thirty-six States that have adopted prohibition enforcement laws as drastic as the Volstead act.

Second, there are thirty-three dry States—dry by their own Initiative—from which come sixty-six of the ninety-six Senators.

Third, there is the ever-growing conviction that a law that empties jails and almshouses, booms legitimate business, reduces disorder and brings joy to homes where sorrow reigned is a good thing to keep.

Lastly, there is that awful bugaboo of booze, the Anti-Saloon League, alert and vigorous as ever; whereas the ranks of the liquor forces are becoming weaker, and more scattered as the days go by.

I fear that the Governor was dreaming when he included in his list of hopeful States that are dry by their own action, three that voted solidly for submission of the prohibition amendment and several others whose delegations gave a dry majority. However, Mr. Edwards feels sure of New Jersey, saying, "I am certain that we can elect nine of our twelve Congressmen."

This reminds me of an old Scotchman, twenty years on the same job, who boasted that he was "holding his own"—as he started out with nothing and still had nothing—for New Jersey now has nine wet Congressmen, which number will probably be cut to five this fall.

It is surprising to have a New Jersey politician say, "Politicians are the most cowardly, timid creatures on earth. The average Congressman and member of the Legislature is afraid of his own shadow." Or, as Mr. Edwards further expresses it, "There were enough supine, cowardly legislators to enable the unscrupulous Anti-Saloon League to bluff them into the passage of laws destructive of our liberty and State rights."

As a "sample" of these "timid" creatures, he instances Uncle Joe Cannon. It is true that Uncle Joe missed his election to the Sixty-third Congress because a majority of the voters in his district were dissatisfied with his record on the liquor question. Since his return to Congress in 1915 he has seen it to please his constituents, even though he displeased the brewers. Yes, the Anti-Saloon League told the voters about his record; they toughed the button and the voters did the rest.

If this was an unpardonable political sin, the Anti-Saloon League can plead that it learned the trick from the liquor lobby, which used that political weapon for many years before the Anti-Saloon League was born.

I noted that our "goody-goody," horrified Governor in his statement recommends that the "wet" follow the same "dishonorable, bulldogging" tactics; as he says, "Convince them that their return to Congress will depend upon their promise of voting for the repeal of the obnoxious laws."

The Anti-Saloon League has no fears that the American people will ever repeal the Eighteenth Amendment or pull the teeth from the Volstead act, both of which have been unanimously sustained by the Supreme Court. Of the nineteen amendments to the Constitution the increasing safety of the airplane is demonstrated by figures obtained from England by Aerial Age, which appear in the current issue of the magazine. In the first year of civil flying in England just ended, a total of 70,000 passengers were carried in 38,954 flights with but one fatal accident. Commenting on these figures, Major Gen. Sir E. H. Sykes, Controller General of Civil Aviation, is quoted as saying: "We have conquered the air and our immediate task is to exploit our victory in the interest of commercial development."

The number of miles flown the first year was 734,200 and the goods carried totaled 116,498 pounds, according to Aerial Age. A total of 114 aeroplanes were licensed and 519 machines registered during the year.

Robust At 73, English Athlete Spurns All Medical Advice

Sir Claude Champion de Crespigny And Sir James Cantlie, London Physician, Debate Question Of Health

BY ROBERT J. PREW

"A medical crank!"
"A crazy athlete!"
With some such interchange of compliments, Sir James Cantlie, a famous London physician, and Sir Claude Champion de Crespigny, a sportsman of ancient lineage, are trying to decide for the benefit of the public whether athletics are injurious to the health.

The dispute started when Sir James Cantlie publicly condemned sea bathing, particularly before breakfast, as injurious to the heart and the general health.

Sir Claude, who revels in sea bathing at his present age of seventy-three, ridiculed the famous physician's dictum, and publicly challenged him to a series of contests, including a forty-mile walk, a long swim, a sculling race and three two-minute rounds of boxing.

DECLINES CHALLENGE
Sir James, who at sixty-nine is four years the aged sportsman's junior, declined to take up the challenge. "Let him come and try my job for a day and see how he likes it," was his reply. "I rise at 4:30 a.m. and have done so for years. I usually write till eight o'clock, when I breakfast. From then on till three I am busy with patients. Five nights a week I lecture from five to nine p.m. In addition, I am surgeon to two hospitals."

Sir Claude, who is renowned throughout Britain as a soldier, war correspondent, author, balloonist, boxer and long-distance swimmer, replies that he has no use for doctors and couldn't do their work anyhow, though he claims that he would be quite equal to the physical strain.

"People begin to take extravagant care of themselves too early in life," he says. "On reaching fifty they think they must stop taking much exercise, because it might affect their heart. Coddled themselves in this way, they make senility come twice as quickly as it would if they forgot they were supposed to be growing old."

HARD WORK DOES IT
"I have no system for keeping fit except constant, hard exercise, regardless of age. I'm not particular about regular hours of sleep. I admit I don't smoke, because I don't like tobacco; but, emphatically, I am not a total abstainer. I always drink a pint of port wine at night, and sometimes I drink more than a pint. I am very fond of vintage port."

"My weight is 142 pounds and has remained stable since the seventies, when I returned from India. I still dive from the height of thirty feet, and I regard sea bathing as one of the finest exercises in the world, no matter what Sir James Cantlie may say."

"I never see any doctors. 'It's a good thing, I suppose, that every one doesn't hold my opinions, or else all the doctors would be in the workhouse.'"

"One leads where many follow."

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

Hall's Distemper is a unique preparation and has the recommendation of leading sanitary authorities, architects, and decorators everywhere.

Avoid disappointment by refusing substitutes which do not possess its advantages. Of all Decorators.

Bringing Up Father

Bobbie And His Pa

BY WILLIAM F. KIRK

Pa had us out riding in our car last evening & I saw sum red leefs on the trees. I showed them to Pa & he sed Yes, Bobbie, Autumn is almost here agenn. Such is the flite of time, sed Pa, the vernal Spring, the sleepy Summer, the flaming Fall & the wild Winter, sed Pa, & at last the closing of the tired lamps, sed Pa, & the curtain. How tragic, sed Ma. Have you a teeth-ake? Ma sed to Pa. Not me, sed Pa, I am in the full flush of my strength, sed Pa, but I have a ree-fleck-tiv mind, sed Pa, & I do not fear peering into the Beyond, sed Pa. Neether do I, sed Ma, but I love life on these brite Autumn days, sed Ma, & I prefer to think of butifal Nater & the bracing atmosphere & have we plenty gasoleen, etc., sed Ma, rather than to think of the heerater, wich is cumming soon enuff to all of us, sed Ma. You are my sunbeam, sed Pa. always brite and happy & full of smiles. I wish I was moar like you, Pa sed, but I am a thinker, sed Pa, & a thinker is never reely happy for, vary long to a stretch, Pa sed. You mean that I do not think? sed Ma. Not that exactly, sed Pa, but I mean that you do not think deep & long, like what I do, sed Pa. It is not yure fault that you are not a mentil Giant, sed Pa, vary few are. Is a mentil Giant moar tuffer than a Fizzickal Giant? I asked Pa.

No, Bobbie, sed Pa, but moar grater, & wen one is both a mentil & a Fizzickal Giant, sed Pa, yure mother has every rite to be proud of him, etc., sed Pa. How fast are we going, sed Ma. I hope the speed of the car will not dis-turb yure butifal thoughts about yureself, sed Ma. We are not going fast enuff for that, sed Pa. Do you see any moar red leefs on the trees, Bobbie? sed Pa. That is a quaint fancy, sed Pa; you are indeed my own imidge, sed Pa. I always had a quaint fancy like that wen I was a child & later on, too, sed Pa. That is why so many ladies of our cirkel always took a deep interest in me, sed Pa. They never knew what butifal think I was going to say to them next, sed Pa. Look ware you are going, sed Ma, or you will be having sum butifal fancies in the bottom of that raven along side of the road, sed Ma, & I will then be a widow & maybe marry agenn, sed Ma, & maybe Bobbie wuddent like his Step-father. Then Pa got kind of pail in the face, I bet Pa wuddent like it if Ma had a 2nd husband to buy bokays for her 1st husband's lot in the seculnary. If I ever git married I hope I will live as long as my wife & be happy like Pa & Ma are wen they aint roar about something, & if I have a car I will talk my littel boy out rideling if it aint a littel gurl.

By George McManus

To A Heedless Daughter

BY ANGELA MORGAN

From thinking hard and working long.
Your mother's lips forgot their song.
Your mother's hair turned softly gray.
From thinking, planning, day by day.
Wait—listen! Mash, impulsive girl,
Eager to find the flash and whirl
Of life that dances very far
From home, where all your burdens are.

Listen and think awhile with me,
Of her, whose grief you do not see.
O girl, you must not break her heart.
You from your mother must not part.

From thinking hard and working long
She moves unnoticed in the throng.
A figure void of charm or grace—
And there are wringles in her face.

Yet—she had dimples when a lass,
And people stared to see her pass.
Had you been—burdened just as she,
Your smiles and dimples might not be.

So great her beauty was, and rare!
And yet she chose a life of care;
She lived for sacrifice and worth
In bringing little souls to birth.

She gave herself that you might live;
She suffered all that you might give.
To needy earth, your womanhood
In deeds of purity and good.

Her hope, her love, her heart, are yours;
Her life into your living pours.
Oh, go to her and clasp her hand.
Tell her at last you understand!

Feeding After First Year

BY BIRCE BELDEN, M. D.

During the second year of life milk is usually given in considerable quantity, but if a child is to develop strong teeth it is wise to give him food other than liquid or semi-liquid. A reasonable amount of milk will help to supply the protein, but it should not constitute the main reliance.

Don't Be Cross

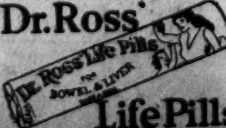

Do you ever have days when it is difficult to smile—when pleasant words are an effort, and you feel disagreeable and cross?

That is because you are not well. Your liver is clogged and you are poisoned with accumulated waste matter.

Dr. Ross' Life Pills will clean you out and cheer you up. Life will be worth living again if you take this well-known tonic laxative frequently.

For sale at all druggists.

GERMANS' NEW FAD IS MUSCLE MAKING

Young Men And Women Join In Marching With Heavy Loads On Backs

London, August 21.—The Berlin correspondent of the London Times describes what he calls "a new German industry" in a despatch to his paper. He says:

"On Sunday I walked for some twenty kilometers through the country districts between Hanau and Frankfurt and saw for myself the muscle making industry to which young Germany is devoting all its spare time."

"I passed thousands of young Germans of both sexes marching along the roads in military order, mostly in bands of forty to eighty men and women. All carried knapsacks, and in nearly every case three or four had musical instruments (mostly Tyrolean guitars). The usual plan is for these bands to leave the cities and towns on Saturday afternoon and evening and camp out for the night. Some carry small canvas tents, something like an American army 'pup tent,' but most sleep in the open air."

"Both men and women are loosely dressed, the men without coats as a rule, and the women with open bodices and no corsets. They present a fine, healthy appearance, and although the heavy marching will not make the women beautiful it will improve rather than interfere with their breeding capacities—whilst is what the Germans seem really to be after. Germany seems to be determined to replace the men she has lost as quickly as possible, and every German village is literally swarming with little machine gunners."

"These great marching and muscle making movements, in which young people of both sexes march together and pass the night together in the fields, will greatly increase the baby crop. German vital statistics before the war were notoriously incomplete, and it would not be surprising if a notable percentage of illegitimate births were passed over in silence in the future. The youth of Germany is now being taught that physical strength is the thing most to be admired in man, and child bearing in woman."

"The explanation generally given for these outings, that they are the result of purely economic causes, does not satisfy me. When a German cannot afford the pleasures of the cities, that the only reason they march is because they cannot pay fourth class train fares and that there is no other way in which they can obtain an outing, I am sceptical. Germans were always fond of vereins' of all kinds, and before the war I have seen marching clubs and tourist organisations on the road; but nothing like what I saw on Sunday. "This is now almost a national movement. It is the youth of a nation training hard to make muscle, to breed a new, strong and numerous generation—whether for rebuilding or for revenge I do not know."
